Sea Port's Fair Labor Practices Corporate Policy:

Sea Port is unequivocally against the exploitation of men, women, and children in the seafood industry and more broadly in the entire global economy. It is our corporate policy to refuse to deal with entities that are engaged in any form of worker exploitation including, but not limited to, human trafficking, forced or slave labor, and illegal child labor practices and it is our mission to confront any abuses we discover in order to drive corrective changes within the industry. It is our belief that by doing so we will advance the working conditions of all the fish workers of the world which are the true bedrock of a healthy, safe, and sustainable seafood industry. Sea Port strongly supports all the governments, industries, and non-governmental organizations that are diligently working to improve the working conditions of our increasingly interconnected global workforce.
